

Anna Strömberg joins Catella's fund management operations

Anna Strömberg has been appointed as a new portfolio manager at Catella's fund management operations. Anna has many years of experience as a manager of both Swedish and global equity portfolios, combined with excellent knowledge in sustainability and responsible investment. Anna joins us from Nordea.

"We are pleased and proud to be able to announce Anna Strömberg as a new portfolio manager at Catella's fund management operations. Catella has high ambitions for its fund management and, with her solid background in portfolio management and sustainability, Anna will be an excellent complement to the existing team," says Erik Kjellgren, head of the Swedish fund operations.

"We have chosen to recruit an individual with extensive experience of managing equities, combined with excellent knowledge of sustainability. Our clients these days demand strong procedures for sustainability, and we therefore have a clear ambition to also improve in this area. It is important for sustainability efforts to be truly integrated into the management process, and Anna's extensive experience of portfolio management is therefore central. Anna will have a broad role in our operations in order to enhance the general focus on sustainability, and she will also have her own defined portfolio management responsibilities as an important part of the team surrounding the Catella Reavinstfond fund," says Erik Kjellgren.

Anna Strömberg has 18 years of experience in the management of Swedish and global equities, often in concentrated portfolios based on fundamental analysis. Anna has broad sector knowledge and is familiar with analysing stocks globally. Anna joins us from a role at Nordea Responsible Investments, where she worked to develop and operate the processes of sustainability analysis at Nordea and to improve integration between the equity and ESG teams.

Anna takes up her position today, 1 September 2016.
